401(k) accounts. IRAs. Life insurance policies. Each helps ensure a stable future. Stand-alone Long Term Care insurance (LTCi) can help protect against borrowing from these assets.

Funding Options for Long Term Care

Understanding the options available for funding long term care can help you reach an informed decision. Are you retirement ready?

- Self-Pay

Long term care can be expensive. The national average yearly cost of a private room in a nursing facility is over $85,000, and an average claim lasts 2.8 years.¹ How would this impact your retirement and family plans?

- Government Funding

Government's help with long term care costs is limited. Medicare helps with the cost of some health care, but it does not cover the cost of most long-term care. And to qualify for Medicaid, you must be low income, which means income and savings must be spent down to qualify.

- Long Term Care Insurance

LTCi pays for out-of-pocket costs incurred for covered expenses — for at-home and facility care — providing a way to help pay for care and help protect retirement income and assets.
